NATION-WIDE ECONOMY

To carry out the program of national economy demanded of the American people by the war they must adopt scientific and systematic methods of economy. Spasmodic and periodic saving will not fulfill the demand upon us. One method that has been proposed and has the approval of the Treasury Department is for every American to pledge himself or herself to economize and save, and with the savings at definite periods purchase specific amounts of war-savings stamps.

We must give our Nation, we must give our men in arms, all the strength and support possible. To do this we must cut our own demands on the labor, material, and money of the country to the limit, and increase to the limit the supply of money, material, and labor available to the Government. All of our energies and resources should be devoted to the winning of the war, and to accomplish this we must economize, save, and lend to the Government. A definite systematic plan of saving, strengthened by resolve and a pledge to save and lend to the Government, will be productive of the best results. The savings plan campaign is now on. Every patriotic American should make a pledge to save and keep the pledge. Make over your old clothing, have your shoes repaired, eat less, are all good ways of saving.

TIMELY TOPICS

The question of securing trained nurses for the Red Cross in the hospitals of the Army and Navy at home and abroad has become a serious one. Trained nurses are an indispensable part of the military establishment, and without them hospitals are useless and the wounded cannot be properly cared for.

The immediate call from the Red Cross is for trained and registered nurses. One thousand more must be enrolled by the middle of June, largely for service at home. Then by the first of the year 24,000 additional must be enrolled. For the latter quota a great many nurses now in training should be available, but for the 1000 call of course only those nurses already trained and registered are available.

Therefore, the responsibility devolves directly upon the registered nurses of the country to enroll and upon the graduate nurses not yet registered to make themselves eligible for enrollment. Never in the history of the world has the demand for competent nurses been so great; never has any person been privileged to render his or her country, and the world at large, a greater service than the American nurse has today. Thousands upon thousands of nurses will be needed. Those who enroll now will have the privilege of forming the pioneer corps which will receive the gratitude of the military and naval authorities; the blessings of the American forces at the front, and the homage of the American people at large.

Under the provision of the Government Insurance Law enacted for the protection of the Army and Navy, nurses assigned to duty as members of the Army and Navy Corps will be able to obtain at nominal rates, protection for themselves as well as for designated members of their families dependent upon them. Such provision has never before been made for Army and Navy nurses.

Above all she will have the infinite satisfaction of knowing that she is relieving the sufferings of the boys of her own country; those bound to her by ties of blood, friendship and national brotherhood.

This standard of the Red Cross nurse in the United States has been maintained at a point higher than that in any other country. This is equivalent to saying that the American soldier and sailor who is attended by a nurse in the Army and Navy Nurse Corps receives better care so far as nursing is concerned, than the soldier or sailor of any other nation. It is desirable that this standard be maintained.

While the appeal in this campaign is to be made directly to the registered nurse, a highly important factor in the success of the campaign is the nurse employing public.

Thousands of nurses are being employed by persons who could dispense with their services without injury to themselves. These nurses in many instances are retained by the well-to-do partly in the capacity of companions. Many others are retained in cases of minor illnesses where the services of a trained nurse are really not needed. Every person who today employs a trained nurse who not absolutely needed deprives our soldiers at the front of imperatively needed care and is therefore giving aid to the enemy.

It is the duty of the public to conserve nursing activities as much as to conserve food. For any person to retain the services of a trained nurse needlessly means that that person selfishly or thoughtlessly deprives a large number of our sick and wounded soldiers of aid that would preserve their health or their lives. Divisions and chapters are urged to impress this situation on the people by every means possible.

It has come to the knowledge of the Department of Nursing of the American Red Cross, that many persons desiring to employ a nurse have specified that she be not enrolled in the Red Cross because of their fear that the nurse may be called to service in the Army and Navy Corps and that a change would be necessary. The result has been that many of the most patriotic women in the world—the nurses who have signified their willingness to share in the hardships, the dangers and privations incident to war—have been discriminated against while they were waiting for the call to military duty, and their places taken by the selfish nurse who has not enrolled and who stays at home to reap the financial benefits made possible to her by the patriotism of her sister nurses. Not only can the public be passively helpful by dispensing with unnecessary services of registered nurses, but it can be actively helpful by insisting—in cases where the services of a registered nurse are actually needed—that the nurse employed be an enrolled Red Cross nurse.

The nurse enrolled, through the Red Cross, in the services of her country, stands ready to sacrifice all, even her life if necessary, for love of country. She is entitled to the sympathy, the support and interest of the millions of women whose husbands, brothers and sons are fighting for its safety. Not only should the women of the country encourage nurses who have this blessing opportunity for service, to volunteer promptly but they should make every possible effort to protect the nurses who are holding themselves ready for service and share with them the responsibility and sacrifice.

No one believes, however, that the nurse employing public has failed purposefully in its duty to the enrolled Cross nurse; but in such a situation thoughtlessness or ignorance is as dangerous as deliberate discrimination against the nurse who has answered her country's call. If there is to be discrimination it should be against the unpatriotic nurse who seeks safety, ease and profit at the expense of those who are willing to serve their country.

GRAND BAZAAR

Last week in July, Mrs. Randall, chairman of the Allerton Special Aid Society, has donated the Casino of the Nautilus Inn for a grand bazaar in aid of that society. It will be continued for two or three days. Donations of fancy work, aprons, caps, handkerchiefs, bags, groceries, anything saleable, are solicited. Articles may be left at the Special Aid room, Bay-side, or with any member of the Society. There will be a general table and several special tables. Ice cream and home made candy will be on sale. The ladies will serve afternoon tea. Come and get your friends to come. The Allerton Special Aid Society needs the assistance of every patriotic person. You will have a good time and help a good cause. The ladies are busy now and are planning to raise at least $1,000.

HOLD YOUR LIBERTY BONDS!

The American who buys a Liberty Bond and forthwith sells it has performed only half a service for his country. To buy bonds and then sell them immediately tends to make the war burden of the country heavier instead of lighter, as it decreases the market value of the bonds.

Liberty Bonds are the safest and soundest and one of the best investments in the world. To sell them unless imperatively required is not good business, is not good Americanism.

FIFTY-FIFTY

The Editorial Pointer in the Boston Globe points woman's duty, thus:

"Not a bad idea, that of the County Council of Defense of Custer County, in Montana, which has decided that every able-bodied woman must contribute at least six hours each week to the service of the Red Cross."

Yes, it is a good idea, but are all men doing six hours war work? We believe that all should be compelled, irrespective of race, color, sex, previous condition of servitude, to do war work.

CARD OF THANKS

THREE DAYS

War Savings Campaign IN HULL

During the month of June the women of Massachusetts have organized for a state wide campaign to secure signed pledges to buy War Savings Stamps.

You will be asked to sign a card agreeing to buy one or more of these $5.00 stamps during 1918.

The National quota is $20 per capita.

Plymouth County has thus far raised only one-tenth of that amount.

Remember this is not a GIFT—it is an INVESTMENT.

GERMANS BOAST OF OWN CRUELTY

Tell Neutral Nations How Church and House Are Destroyed.

IS MEANT AS A WARNING

Circular Recites Amount of Booty
Seized in France and Belgium, and Mistreatment of English Prisoners of War.

Washington. — Teutonic frightfulness as practiced in France and Belgium has been made the subject of a German warning to neutral nations of the fate which they may expect if they take up arms against the central powers.

"If there are any still thinking of siding with the allies let them take warning from the fate of others," says the warning. It is in the form of a circular, which recites the amount of booty seized in France and Belgium, the number of churches damaged and destroyed, the money wrung from the stricken inhabitants and finally the deliberate mistreatment of English prisoners of war.

German propagandists have flooded Spain with this document printed in Spanish, and copies have come into the possession of the state department. Having established its German origin the department made public this translation:

"Besides an untold amount of war material captured on the battlefield the Germans have taken possession of incalculable booty in France and Belgium, including:

High grade watches.....	417
Average watches.....	5,018
Underwear.....	18,073
Embroideries and women's handkerchiefs.....	15,132
Umbrellas and parasols.....	3,706
Silver spoons.....	1,876
Bottles of champagne.....	625,000

"These figures show a large increase over those of the campaign against France in 1870-71.

"Punish Catholic Churches."

"In Belgium, besides many art treasures, they have confiscated old paintings valued at 3,000,000 pesetas. "Due to the treachery of Cardinal Mercier and other priests, who did their utmost to stir the priests against the good-hearted German soldiers, they were forced to teach a severe lesson to the Belgian and French Catholics.

Cathedrals destroyed.....	4
Rendered unserviceable.....	3
Rendered unserviceable.....	21
Total.....	68

"In Poland also a large number of churches have been destroyed for military reasons. The figures concerning these have not yet been published. "As a result of the stupid stubbornness of the Belgian people in continuing the struggle after their bloody and final defeat on the battlefield, the German officers were forced, against their will, to impose punishments on many rich individuals and wealthy cities. This has contributed the following amounts to the German treasury:

Punishments.....	$7,000,000
Security.....	13,000,500
Reparations.....	15,750,000
Forced contributions.....	4,230,850
Total.....	120,071,350

"This amount includes a fine of 15,000 pesetas imposed on the Alsatian children who insist on speaking the French language and refuse to study the beautiful German language. These statistics are a most useful warning to the neutral countries.

"If there are any still thinking of siding with the allies let them take warning from the fate of others."

Boast Also of Cruelty.

It is claimed also in this document that more than 50,000 British have been made prisoners, and in this connection the following statement is made:

"Although to these figures the English oppose 124,800 German prisoners taken by them on the western front, it must be remembered the English treat their prisoners with notable kindness (Wandura notoria), while the regime imposed on the English prisoners by the Germans is one of extreme rigor, so that the Germans, with a small number of prisoners, have secured a much superior moral effect.

"Besides, to the 2,264 officers and 51,325 soldiers, must be added the several thousand English prisoners that have died in consequence of disease, scanty food and other accidents in German concentration camps."

The figures regarding British prisoners, it is explained, refer to the total prior to the recent drive in Picardy and Flanders.

Old Landmark Falls.

Memphis, Tenn.—One of the best known landmarks on the Mississippi river is gone. A tall sycamore tree that stood on the Arkansas shore near Memphis, and which for more than 50 years served as a mark for river pilots, has been undermined by the action of the water and fallen into the river. Mark Twain was one of the famed pilots who held the jackstaff of his boat on the tree.

Sells Short Pants; Enlists.

Steuenville, O.—"I sold my short pants at Newport News," writes Gilbert E. Boycan, a negro boy aged fifteen, from somewhere in France to his parents here. Playing truant from school to see some selective soldiers depart, the boy decided to join the army and enlisted at Wheeling, W. Va.

SHARE DANGERS WITH SOLDIERS

Y. M. C. A. Workers Are Almost Constantly Under Fire
in France.

MANY HAIRBREADTH ESCAPES

Moment's Delay Saves Red Triangle
Man From Death by Shell—Experiences That Are Test
for Real Man.

Washington.—Bursting shells are everyday, everyday experiences in the lives of all soldiers and Y. M. C. A. workers anywhere within 25 miles of the Boche guns. Dr. George Louis Meylan, who has just returned from France where he was engaged in recreation work for the Y. M. C. A., threw some strong light on the conditions under which all persons back of the trenches live—and die. He had been asked to tell some specific instances of "Y" workers under fire in first-line trenches.

"Those over here who have not been in the war zone must forget their old-time ideas of warfare and its dangers," said Doctor Meylan. "Forget this old idea of open fighting, with troops battling across a plain the size of a large athletic field. Modern artillery shoots for miles and is always shooting. Every person within 20 miles of the trenches is under fire practically all of the time, yet the reports do not call this a battle. The reports announce 'The artillery was active,' and that means shells anywhere five to twenty-five miles back of the trenches.

"Early in April the Germans made night raids and their airplanes were active in bombing. Two of my organizers were visiting camps eight or ten miles back of the front-line trenches. The Germans kept up the bombardment for three days during which time those 'Y' men were dodging shells constantly.

"On the second day they were in a Foyer de Soldat—one of the soldiers' recreation huts provided by the French with 'Y' men in charge—when, within five minutes two shells struck, one a few yards away, the other hitting the hut. The 'Y' men were thrown down by the concussion. It seemed a miracle they were not hit, for soldiers were killed and wounded all around them.

MRS. FRANCIS C. AXTELL

Mrs. Francis C. Axtell, the first woman in the United States to be appointed by executive order to a federal commission, has been promoted by the president to the chairmanship of the United States Employees' Compensation commission. She was made a member of the commission a year ago.

To Remove Paint.

To remove paint from common wooden chairs, scrub them with a strong solution of washing soda.

"It is strange that although we have only about one woman worker to every hundred men workers, not a single 'Y' man had been killed up to the time I left France, whereas Hun shells had killed two of our women workers, Miss Crandell and Miss Winona Martin.

In a certain woods the shells were dropping so thickly that the French commander ordered our men to abandon their huts. As the order was not received until evening, a 'Y' man of my acquaintance decided not to leave until next morning as he wished to take his staff. Next morning he was approaching the hut when a French officer stopped him to exchange farewells. This took little more than a minute, and the Red Triangle worker started on his way when a shell exploded on the path near the hut at the point where he would have been had he not been detained.

Close Calls Every Day.

"Some 'Y' workers are having hairbreadth escapes every day, not every man every day, but each in his time with a regularity to justify saying some men every day. Eight of our men with the Canadians have been killed, and we cannot expect to escape unscathed. They work from six o'clock in the morning until eleven o'clock at night, seven days a week, with a week off every three months—and many never take their week off. On one occasion of which I know the workers were up at three o'clock in the morning with hot coffee to warm the French soldiers coming in after a three-mile wade through mud and rain. Those Polish appreciated that.

"Many of our workers slept on the ground in zero weather this winter, with nothing but a blanket between them and the frozen earth, and with no shelter but a hut made often of green lumber which warped, letting in icy blasts. A test for a real man."

"I went forward toward the trenches to meet the American soldiers coming back after their baptism of fire at Chemin des Dames and they were all eagerness for more. The Germans had sent picked troops against them, their strongest men in brand new equipment, to impress the Americans that Germany had an abundance of everything, material and robust men. Quite a contrast to the ill-equipped emaciated men the French had taken prisoners. The Americans gave such good account of themselves in this fight that the French could not praise them enough."

REFOREST BARE HILLSIDES

Scarcity of Timber Moves Mining Companies in Pennsylvania to Take Action.

Hazleton, Pa.—The scarcity of lumber for mine pillars and other mine uses has led to the creation of a forestry department by several of the large mining companies, one of which has just reforested Bear Creek watershed with 3,000 white pine and 5,000 Norway spruce trees.

Thirty thousand more trees are in process of cultivation at Hugo, Pa., in the Panther Creek valley. When timber is ready to cut in the vicinity of the mines troublesome waits and long hauls will be eliminated.

More timber in the anthracite region would stop floods, add to the water supply, reduce the drought periods and enable the anthracite industry to add to its output. Many thousands of acres are available about the mines for reforestation.

You Can Now Eat Your Favorite Food Without Any Fear

Kramer Says: "Eatonic" Rids Weak Stomachs of Acids, Gas, Heartburn, Food Repeating
and Stomach Miseries

What miserable feelings are caused by an upset stomach? That dull, heavy, "bloated" sensation that follows a full meal, robs good living of half its pleasures. Is there any way out for you sufferers with stomach weakness?

Yes; H. L. Kramer, the man who originated Cascarets, has found a sure, quick, relief for indigestion, dyspepsia, "sour stomach," heart-burn, formation of painful gases, "bloating," etc., etc. He calls his stomach relief EATONIC, and it certainly is making a wonderful record. Countless thousands of people who formerly approached their meals with dread, now eat their fill of their favorite foods without fear of the after-effects.

Mr. Kramer says: "My EATONIC tablets are the solution of the age-old problem of indigestion and all forms of stomach misery.

Scenes of Prosperity

Are Common in Western Canada

The thousands of U. S. farmers who have accepted Canada's generous offer to settle on homesteads or buy land in her provinces have been well repaid by bountiful crops of wheat and other grains.

Where you can buy good farm land at $15 to $30 per acre—get $2 a bushel for wheat and raise 20 to 45 bushels to the acre you are about to make money—that's what you can do in Western Canada.

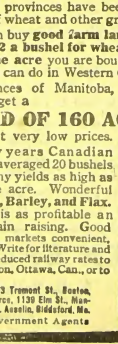

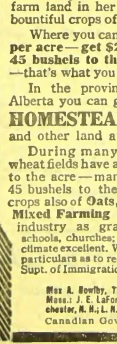

In the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta you can get a

HOMESTEAD OF 160 ACRES FREE

and other land at very low prices.

During many years a Canadian wheat fields have averaged 20 bushels to the acre—many yields as high as 45 bushels to the acre. Wonderful crops also of Oats, Barley, and Flax. Mixed Farming is as profitable an industry as grain raising. Good schools, churches; markets convenient, climate excellent. HULLONIANS' HAPPY HOURS

Mrs. George James of Roslindale and Hull has been working on Red Cross work for upwards of a year. She is training to be an instructor and has nearly completed the course. Mrs. James is much interested in war work.

Mr. and Mrs. James Cashman of Burlington, Vt., formerly of Hull and Quincy, have taken the Giffert cottage on Hull Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Attridge of Boston and charming little daughter are at the Sylvester House for the season. Mr. Attridge is a member of the Boston City Council.

Miss Irene Glawson, accompanied by her mother, went to Boston on Wednesday to buy her graduation dress. She graduates from the Hull Village School this June.

The Red Cross Drive was successful and Hull collected more than the allotment.

The Y. M. C. A. building at Fort Revere is being used to good advantage. On Monday evening an amateur company presented three plays which were much enjoyed.

Captain (Dr.) Sturgis is now at Fort Strong, with him is his son, Walter, who has been assigned a position as orderly to his father. Captain Sturgis is commanding surgeon with the 71st Regiment, which is an honor he richly deserves. He has worked hard since joining the army and his advancement has been rapid, which pleases all his friends. We hope to see him a major soon.

Another promotion in the army which pleases numbers of friends is that of Colonel Long.

Captain Edward Murphy of Fort Revere is another whom all think worthy of his position and title. His parents are residing with him at the Fort.

Captain Addison Crafts of Allerton has sent a picture to the editor of the Hull East Wind (which will be printed next week) that is clever in its reproduction of Camp Life in France. He is pictured reading the East Wind and asks, "Deacon, can you beat it?"

Mr. Alfred Smith, son of Roadmaster John Smith, is a chip of the "old block." He has installed a gutter on Gallops Hill that is a work of art, one might say. Mr. John Smith is a natural road builder. Road builders are born not made. Mr. Smith learned all he knows about the business from practical experience and he can't be beat.

Mrs. Hamlin of West Medford and Allerton has just returned from a trip to New Hampshire, where she has been attending to the business left her by her father who was a large property owner.

It looks now as if the W. S. S. drive June 7th to June 25th would be conducted with vigor.

Rev. Frank Kingdon is getting along as well as can be expected.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hooper and family are at their Hull residence for the summer.

Miss Margaret McDonald who has been head waitress for Mr. Walter Whitten for several years at the hotel, he has conducted, was the guest on Wednesday of Mrs. John E. Rummer.

PLYMOUTH COUNTY W. S. S. DRIVE

Because Massachusetts is lagging woefully behind in the sale of War Savings stamps and because the call has come from the State headquarters to "speed up," all Plymouth county towns are joining in the State wide movement to secure not less than one million signed pledges to buy War Savings stamps regularly during 1918.

Headed by Mrs. George T. Rice, at State chairman, and Mrs. George O. Jenkins as Plymouth county chairman, the women of Massachusetts are organizing to conduct a house to house campaign in the interests of these "baby liberty bonds." The Plymouth county forces are being organized under the general supervision of Eldon B. Keith of Brockton, who is general chairman of the war savings movement in Plymouth county. In each town there will be a three day drive to secure in that time a definite number of signed pledges. Massachusetts stands fourth in the list of States, which is pretty close to the bottom. As a result of these three day campaigns it is hoped that before June 29, which is National War Savings Day, Massachusetts will be well up to the top of the list, if not "over the top."

The dates for the campaign in Hull are June 14, 15 and 16. There will be a meeting on Tuesday night, June 11th, at the Apollo Theater to organize. Everybody invited. Mrs. Newton W. Wanzel has been appointed Woman's Major of the town of Hull. See what he said about this drive in another column by the Plymouth county committee.

PROMOTION DESERVED

Some of our young people attended the time honored and always original Barnum & Bailey circus.

Mrs. Clara Briggs Mapes, wife of the late Mr. Henry C. Mapes, passed away at her home on Elm street, Cohasset on Wednesday, May 29, after a lingering illness covering a period of about two years. She was born Oct. 5, 1840 and resided in the old brick house in which she was born and which was built in 1749. She was married in 1864 and for her long residence in Cohasset won for herself a host of friends who loved her for her cheerful and kind personality, always warm hearted and considerate of others in spite of failing health. She took a vital interest in their welfare and continued to cheer and inspire those who came in contact with her by her patient fortitude and finer spirit which she showed during her long and trying illness. She is survived by two sons, Mr. George Mapes, a conductor on the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R., and Mr. Harry Mapes, chairman of the Board of Selectmen and for years

ROCK AND WHITE
In the Famous Revue and Travesty, with Dances, at the Plymouth Theatre, Boston, Monday, June 10.

More than once it has been remarked that there is nothing new under the sun.
Once in a long while, however, there is unearthed a novelty that is at once so striking, by reason of its originality and its cleverness, as to cause the onlooker
to rub his eyes in a maze of wonder.
It is just this kind of novelty that William Rock and Frances White promise theatregoers in the programme arranged for their two weeks' limited engagement, which will take place at the Plymouth Theatre, Boston, beginning next Monday, June 10th.

Their repertoire on this occasion will consist of selections from the eighty-six specialties, a resume of their work gleaned from their two years' season, as leading artists of Ziegfeld's Midnight
Follies, on the roof of the Amsterdam
Theatre, New York.
Accomplished as they are, however,
Miss White and Mr. Rock do not rely on their specialties alone to supply all the entertainment. Accompanying them will be Jack Gardner, another well-known entertainer, together with an orchestra of twenty-five selected singers and soloists from the New York Ciel Club, one of the most unique musical organizations in the United States.
During this engagement Miss White will sing some of the famous songs that have greatly contributed to her success.
Among them being "Mississippi," "Money in the Zoo," "Six Times Six" and "Goesinto." Mr. Rock, in furnishing his share of gladness and fun to the occasion, will sing from his original dancing numbers, will also include many clever impersonations.
All in all, our playgoers may prepare themselves for a big surprise in the programme that has been arranged by Miss White and Mr. Rock, containing as it does the songs and dances that have made them the most favored of all entertainers in New York.

ADDRESS BY SOLDIER BOY
A meeting was held in the town hall
in Hull Village on Tuesday evening, which was addressed by Sergt. Eddie Creed, a young man who has spent his summers at Nantasket since boyhood.
Mr. C. V. Nicholson presided and introduced the speaker in appropriate manner. Mr. Creed returned from France, where he was with the 101st Infantry,
to speak in the Liberty Loan Campaign and expects soon to return. He has seen the boys of Hull and reported that all were well and doing their duty in good shape. He is an eloquent speaker and won and held his audience from the start to finish. He spoke of all the boys and their splendid spirit of sacrifice and determination and said that they all resembled Jess Willard in rugged strength from out door life. He paid a glowing and heartfelt tribute to the work of the American Red Cross, whom he called Queens of American manhood and assured the parent of the boys present that the boys were living glenn moral lives under the guidance of the Catholic and Protestant chaplains. There is no religious difference, all creeds are one in service to the brave boys, Catholic clergymen praying with and sending dying Protestants. Many of his audience were weeping at his eloquence as he painted the picture of sacrifice and heroism of our boys and our chaplains. One thing he said above all others that impressed his hearers and that was that the German mothers need have no fears for their daughters when the Allied armies invaded Germany if such came to pass.
He scored the alien slanders carrying himself in the factories, etc., while American boys were sacrificing all. He ended by reciting a poem showing the union of American soldiers and citing the heroic sacrifice of Homer Wheaton, who threw his body upon a shell which had been accidentally dropped and which threatened the lives of several boys. Such an address would almost turn a stone into a patriot. A collection for the special war work at File's was taken, amounting to over $30.00.

Be Fair With Children.
Do not keep a list of your children's faults constantly before you, and do not, if you would be happy and at the same time make these little ones happy, elaborate upon their failings before company. On the other hand, if you must speak of the day's events, emphasize their good deeds, tell of the splen-doid work done during school hours, and admit in the right spirit that these small members of the household save you many weary steps.

Beyond All Price.
Gifts from the hand are silver and gold, but the heart gives that which neither silver nor gold can buy. To be full of goodness, full of cheerfulness, full of sympathy, full of helpfulness, full of hope, causes one to carry with him blessings of which he is himself as unconscious as a lamp is of its own shining. Such a one moves on human life as stars move on dark seas
to bewildered mariners.

Where Diamonds Come From.
In the great diamond fields of South Africa the stones are found in what are called "pipes," round or oval stones of a peculiar sort of rock, several acres in extent at the top and running down to unknown depths. Near the surface this rock, rich in iron, is disintegrated by exposure to the weather and assumes a yellowish color. The precious gem is readily extracted from the friable rock.

Soldiers' Superstition.
Cavalrymen have a superstition of their own. A mounted man firmly believes that he will come through the deadliest charge unscathed if he carries on his person the tooth of a war horse, the only condition being that the horse itself has, at some time, been through a charge unhurt.

THESPIAN TOPICS
CANNON FIRE THE ONLY MUSIC
TO HELP THE GISH GIRLS.

No Violin to Play Sobby Strains While Griffith Stars Enact Big Scenes for
"Hearts of the World."

How often have we heard of emotional actresses in motion pictures who insist they cannot properly "emote" unless there is a violin at hand to play sobby music. And we recall one very famous screen star who demands that an entire orchestra be furnished in order that her entrances be escorted to the ethereal heights of frenzy.

Now comes Dorothy Gish, who with her sister Lillian appears prominently in the cast of "Hearts of the World" at the Majestic Theatre, Boston, and knocks the emotional music theory into a cocked hat. Little Dorothy claims that in her own mind she can produce D. W. Griffith, the producer, if she or her sister insisted on doing all their future emotional scenes to the same music that accompanied the taking of their latest picture, "Hearts of the World."

Says Dorothy: "It would cost Mr.
Griffith the mere matter of a million dollars or more to provide the 'incidental sounds.' The obligato for our emotional scenes was provided by several hundred British cannon standing almost wheel to wheel and pounding shrapnel and explosive shells into the trenches of the Boche."

Service and Success.
The world is ruled by the victors.
The successful servant is king and dock.

of the existence of any contagious disease
among any species of domestic animals within the limits of this town, or that any domestic animal is affected with any such contagious disease, whether such knowledge is obtained by personal examination or otherwise, shall immediately give written notice thereof to the board of health.
11. The owner of a person in charge of any animal shall, upon receiving written notice or order of quarantine from this board or its duly authorized agent, keep such animal in isolation until the further order of this board.

12. When a household knows that a person within his family or house is sick with smallpox, diphtheria, or scarlet fever or any other infectious or contagious disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the board of health of this town, and upon the death, recovery or removal of such person, shall give notice of said house and such of the articles therein as in the opinion of the board of health have been subjected to infection or contagion shall be disinfected by such householder to the satisfaction of said board of health.

13. When a physician knows that a person whom he is called to visit is infected with smallpox, diphtheria, scarlet fever or any other disease, dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the board of health, and the physician shall be held responsible to the board of health for failure to so signifi- to the board of health of this town.

of the deceased shall be conveyed to the place of its interment in a hearse, and the interment shall take place within 24 hours after death.

15. No person sick with any infectious or contagious disease shall be removed at any time without the permission and notice of the board of health.
16. No grave or tomb containing the body of a person who died with any infectious disease shall be opened without the permission of the board of health.
17. No child or adult person belonging to a household in which smallpox, diphetheria, croup, scarlet fever or measles, or other infectious diseases are dangerous to the public health exists or whose residence has a common entrance with such a household, shall be allowed to attend any public or private school until the expiration of two weeks after the death, recovery or removal of such sick person;
and every pupil shall be required to present to the teacher of the school a certificate from the attending physician or the board of health, stating that he is free from contagion, and that the requirements of the regulation have been complied with.

SEND YOUR LOCAL PAPERS.

Next to a letter from home, a copy of the home town weekly paper is the best thing to send our boys over there.
Send Prof. Willard G. Bleyer, head of the department of journalism at the University of Wisconsin, in addressing a patriotic rally of North Dakota editors at Bismarck, under the auspices of the state council of defense:
"Urge your readers to send copies of your paper to the boys, or to cut out a column or two of 'local' news and enclose them in their letters. The boys want to know what is going on in the home town they have left behind, and nothing tells them the news more satisfactorily than the local newspaper."
"Soldier boys in camps in this country are quite as eager to get the local weekly papers as are those on the other side."

CATCH THE IDEA?

New Arrivals in Street Suits

Are they made of silk or are they of wool? That is the question that glues our eyes to the new showings of suits and leads us to take many an extra step for a closer view. It turns out that many of the suits for mid-summer are made of new weaves in silk fabrics that are soft and supple and have little luster, so they keep us guessing. Besides the all-silk fabrics there are silk and wool mixtures, all of them calculated to make us forget to deplore the scarcity of wool. In case the government should see fit to commandeer the wool production it will be no hardship to wear these new fabrics.

There are many belted models in the new modes and many coats open over trig-looking plique vests. Uneven lengths, cleverly applied buttons and unusual pockets are features that tone up their style—fine points in the technique of making. Skirts grow narrower and remain plain. Fashion still finds slenderness adorable and designers have grown marvelously clever in looks like a vestee of the volle out-lined with a corded edge and finished fashioning suits along such trim lines that they suggest slimmness even on a plump figure. This bit of camouflage is well worth considering.

The suit pictured might be made of one of the new silks or silk and wool mixtures, and it would be effective in poncee or poplin or in light weight wool materials. It embodies the salient features of the season's modes for mid-summer with its coat pointed at the bottom and belted about the sides and front and its covered buttons applied in rows to the sleeves. Two of them at each side are slipped through actual button holes so that the belt across the front fastens on either side.

Georgette Sailor Hats.

Georgette sailor hats are still in vogue, and nothing more interestingly combines a shape of utility and a finish of smartness than this shape and this fabric.

Midsummer Blouses Lovely and Practical

Mere man varies the monotony of his workaday clothes by indulging himself in many changes of ties, and women in the same way rely upon blouses to give the spice of variety to their daily costume. The new blouses that have just made their appearance for midsummer wear promise to fulfill their mission in the most refreshing way, for they are made of light colors with white in many ways. Manufacturers of fabrics and designers of blouses have worked together for the good of womankind this summer, the first producing striped and cross-bar as well as plain materials that are washable and the latter pleasing and versatile details of trimming.

Cluster tuckings, contrasting collars and cuffs, frills of net or plain organdie, narrow lace inserts and edgings and some hand embroidery finish off the clever planning and cutting which see to it that the new blouses are started right. They are adorably refined and dainty and sometimes they are just as simple as they look—but not often. It is their business to look simple and beautifully finished.

The blouse shown in the picture bears out these statements. It is of blue volle with white organdie collar and cuffs. There are two emplacements at the front, one of them a little simulated chemisette in white organdie set in an applied affair that at each side with embroidered scallops. It fastens with white crochet buttons.

The simplest of these blouses are in striped or cross-bar organdie. Blue and white, light green and white, tan and white made up with collars and cuffs of white organdie finished with frills, or with these accessories in plain organdie of the same color as that in the blouse, make variety enough to suit everyone.

The best things about these and all the rest of their kind is their perennial freshness and their durability. Volles, batistes and organdies stand wear and tubing better than heavier materials and look as good as new after long service, therefore their charm is permanent.

Julie Bottomley

Collarless Waists.

It may be from a spirit of conservation or it may be just another effort to be "different," but waists are trying to go collarless for a change, says the Dry Goods Economist. Organdies and volles trimmed with lace and hand embroidery are a charming medium for experiment for mid-summer. They are buttoned up the back or over the shoulder and under the arm, but they carefully avoid closing in front.

THIS WEAK, NERVOUS MOTHER

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which added to my weak condition kept me worrying most of the time—and he said if I could not stop that, I could not get well. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my husband wanted me to try it. I took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness."—Mrs. J. WORTHLINE, 2842 North Taylor St., Philadelphia, Pa.

The majority of mothers nowadays overdo, there are so many demands upon their time and strength; the result is invariably a weakened, run-down, nervous condition with headaches, backache, irritability and depression—and soon more serious ailments develop. It is at such periods in life that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will restore a normal healthy condition, as it did to Mrs. Worthline.

Propagation of Bladderwort Suggested as a Means of Diminishing Plague of Mosquitoes.

Not long ago, says the Milwaukee Journal, Prof. W. E. Ringle, a naturalist of Pittsburg, Kan., discovered in a Kansas creek a bladderwort, a plant that is usually found in more northern streams. He took it to his laboratory and placed it in a jar that contained several small tadpoles, in order to aerate the water and do away with the necessity of changing it so often.

The tadpoles quickly began to disappear in a mysterious manner. An investigation resulted in the surprising discovery that the small balloons on the plant were traps and tombs for the tadpoles. The plant had devoured them. If it would consume tadpoles, there is no reason why it should not devour "wiggie-tails," the larvae of the mosquito, the naturalist thinks. One way of ridding a community of mosquitoes, therefore, appears to be to propagate the bladderwort in pools and streams.

Among the Survivors.

A little story a friend of mine told me of a happening at one of the army camps when the first colored troops arrived. The officer in charge of the receiving of the colored boys was asking one of them the many questions necessary. About the last question to be asked was, "Where do you wish to have your remains sent?" The colored trooper replied, "I'll tell you, boss, I was kind of figurin' on tottin' them around myself."—Chicago Tribune.

FRIENDLY GUIDES AT HAND

Ohio Man Tells of Getting Cards to Parliament From Joe Develin—Describes Air Raid in London.

New York.—The eagerness of the English and Irish to do favors to wandering Americans on leave from military duty abroad, and the general kindness met with everywhere "over there" is told in a letter of an American naval officer, living in Ohio, now in the war zone. He and a friend, who had been shown friendliness by strangers they had met by accident, found on two occasions that the men who had extended such courtesy were persons of considerable distinction. The officers wrote:

"Now that I look back over it, it seems that my spare time was very well spent. I utilized every moment of it. I met hosts of people and made many friends. Every one seemed bent on entertaining us, and I can vouch for their success in this.

"On one occasion not long before I left Lady Curzon held a reception for Admiral Sims, his staff, and other American officers, and it was my good fortune to be introduced to David Lloyd George. Sir William Robertson and Balfour were among some of the other celebrities. The premier is a most impressive man, not in stature, for he was much shorter than I believed him to be, but in his fine face, personality, and sincerity of speech. He, I think, is very wonderful.

Got Cards to Parliament.

"On the day that the houses of parliament opened, some months ago, it was rumored that the premier would speak in the house of commons. So Lieutenant Jackson and I hurried down to Westminster at about 5:30 in the afternoon, deterred, by hook or crook, to get tickets to the gallery. A dignified "bobbie" pointed out some member of parliament to us, and having decided on one because of his small stature and kindly face, Jackson and I swooped down upon him, one on either side. We soberly explained to him with dramatic little touches—thanks to Jackson—how much our hearts were set on getting tickets. He stood smiling at us, a very short, thick-set little man, with an enormous head and a fine, honest face, and then said, 'Have ye just come over-r fr-r-rom Amer-r-rica?' We told him how long we had been across and he said that he had one ticket only, but that he thought that he could find another for us. He signed his ticket—Joe Develin. He was the great Irish Unionist, a man as big in mind as he is small in stature. He soon returned with another member, whom he introduced. This was John Burns, the Labor leader.

"That was a notable afternoon in the house of commons. Asquith, with his beautiful and precise oratory, but seeming to lack that sincerity of purpose and speech which is dominant with Lloyd George, asked questions of the premier, the answers to which would apparently have given valuable information to the enemy, and the premier's tense, flashing reply caused some few dramatic moments.

"Then there were the air raids. These proved very exciting at first, but finally they lost their interest for me and became so commonplace that I paid little attention to them, only staying inside to avoid being hit by the falling shrapnel.

Describes Air Raid in London.

"I was awakened by the guns in the outer defense at 4:30 in the morning, and then the inner defense guns began to bark. The moon was a slim crescent in the sky, and it was a beautiful night, although cold. Presently the faint drone of the raiding planes could be distinguished and there came the reverberating rumbles of bombs being dropped. Finally the noise of the motors died away and the guns on the coast could be heard, throwing up their barrage at the returning Hun planes, and at about six the bugles were sounding 'all clear' through the streets.

"It was reported that two of the ten raiders were brought down. It seems that the crews of these Gotha planes wear electrically heated clothing, and in one machine the heating elements in the pilot's clothing absorbed so much current that, being unable to disconnect them, he was forced to descend. The Gothas have a wing spread of considerably over 100 feet, are twin motored, and carry a crew of three men—pilot, gunner, and bomber. Being twin-motored, their sonorous double hum is very distinctive. On the most brilliant of moonlight nights, when the thrum of their motors is quite strong, it is impossible to see the planes at their height of a mile or more. On the darker nights they may sometimes be forced to show lights in order to retain their flying formation, and then, if you are fortunate, you may glimpse these tiny points of light moving across the sky.

"The majority of the people display no fright during the raids.

The writer of the letter was for some time attached to the staff of Vice Admiral Sims and spent four months in London.

Five Huns, Three Bombs; Lets Victims Choose

Washington.—"How many of you are there down there?" cried an American soldier who surprised a group of Germans in a dugout in No Man's Land.

"Five," came back the reply, in perfect English.

"Well, I've only got three bombs; you'll have to divide 'em up yourselves," retorted the American, as he flung them into the dugout, with not unusual results.

This true story of wit in the trenches was told by a Signal corps lieutenant, returning after several months over there.

GO ON CASH BASIS

Chinese Merchants Forced to Change Methods.

Restricted Credits Since War Began Put Stop to Age-Old Custom.

New York.—The beneficial effects of restricted credits in China since the war started in 1914, which have forced the Chinese merchants to do business pretty much on a cash basis, were particularly noticeable in the unusually small number of failures on Chinese New Year's day, which is the annual settlement day in the Chinese commercial world.

According to Consul General George E. Anderson of Hongkong, banking interests in China have found that the demand for accommodations has fallen off tremendously during the last three years.

Prior to the war and from time immemorial this annual settlement day has entailed efforts of every sort on the part of the Chinese to raise money for liquidating their debts accumulated during the year. Frequently they have had to sell much of their stock in business at a great loss, even personal property as well, in order to raise sufficient funds to "save their face," as it is called. An annual street fair for the sale of all sorts of property, personal and otherwise, has been an old-established custom in Hongkong for generations, almost for centuries, while at the same time both foreign and domestic banks have placed large sums on accommodation. In the last three years, how-

MAGNESIA CURE FOR CANCER

French Scientist Gets Good Results in Many Cases in Testing New Theory.

Paris.—The theory that cancer is not of microbial origin, but is due to the excessive elimination of certain substances normally contained in the blood, is supported by a report of the researches of Professor Dubard, just published by the Academy of Medicine.

Finding that the system of cancerous subjects was particularly poor in magnesia, Professor Dubard administered large doses of it to patients operated on for cancer, and reports encouraging results in a large number of cases.

ever, loans have been small, property sales have been light in comparison, and the street fair has become the occasion for sales to Chinese instead of sales by Chinese to foreigners.

Though the Chinese merchant's volume of business has in some instances been somewhat curtailed, as a result of his having had to operate on much shorter credits than he has been accustomed to, his net profits at the end of the year, through not having been forced to sacrifice merchandise at a loss, have been materially increased.

It is said also that the Chinese business men have come to see the advantages of the new system, and that in all probability they will never go back to the old.

John Plans Return With One of Kaiser's Buttons

Kingman, Kan.—When John Bartfield, colored, comes home from France, if he ever does, and brings a button off the coat or trousers of Kaiser Bill he will have paid a fine assessed against him by Police Judge Harlow.

John recently "hung a shoveler" around the neck of a fellow worker. Before he paid the fine he was called to the colors. The judge told him what he could do, and the negro replied: "That's sho' fair 'nough, boss. I'll do much best to bring back dat button."

Mr. Fred T. Bailey, chairman of the Suburban Metropolitan Committee of Second War Fund American Red Cross of this town has reason to be proud of the record of Sittuate.

Miss Helen Hanson of Hull, former secretary of Mrs. Sirovich, has accepted a position at the Minot postoffice.

Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Sylvester cordially welcome Mrs. Sirovich on a recent visit.

The South Shore Garage is the agent for Ford cars in this town and has one or two to stock. See Mr. Rutter if you want to buy. A Ford car is a good investment.

Clark union will meet at the Trinitarian Congregational Church at Sittuate Friday evening, June 7th. Mr. Harlin Crowell, Y. M. C. A. worker from France will speak.

Mr. Fred Jackson of Sittuate Center is at home on a furlough from France. Every body was glad to welcome him home. He has been in the hospital sick with diphtheria and double pneumonia besides being wounded, he is looking much better than we expected to see him.

Next week there will be a report of the doings at Minot. The season has started very well, many of the summer people are down and have open cottages.

Miss Helen Hanson will be glad to receive new items of interest. Address her at Minot postoffice.

George W. Perry Post 31, G. A. R. accompanied by Camp 88, S. of V., the Woman's Relief Corps and school children decorated the graves of 42 veterans of the Civil War. At each cemetery appropriate exercises were held and a large number of the people attended.

The Massachusetts Woman's Christian Temperance Union's campaign for the $50,000, for which the members of the local union are making a drive this week, is for the purpose of paying off the indebtedness on the Home and Recreation Center in maintains in Ayer for the benefit of the men in Camp Devens, and also to buy an ambulance for the front, a field kitchen for the region of the trenches and a stereomograph for the entertainment, all in the name of the Massachusetts W. C. T. U. Sittuate White Ribboners must do their share.

Mr. Fred Lane of Hingham Center is ill at his home.

Mrs. Frances G. Boggs left Hingham Tuesday night to join Mr. Boggs in New York for a short stay.

Miss May Simpson and her mother leave Hingham Thursday to visit relatives in New York City.

The Girls' Friendly Society held an invitation dance at St. John's Parish House Tuesday evening. Refreshments were served and a general good time enjoyed.

Last Friday evening, May 31st, the Girls' Friendly Society gave a play entitled "It's Radiant Heart" by Bishop Graves, the characters were:

Mr. Hale Abbie Holt
Mrs. Hale Marion Morse
Ethel Hale Marjorie Tower
Ann Hale Ruth Bjorkland
Met Bao Tai Alice Fallon
Lo Lai Lai Mildred Linscott
Huang Chung Fang Grace Bennett
Huang Oao Chu Marion Cowing
Dr. James Olive Bacon
Ling Han Lee Grace Bennett
Ling Lai Lai Abbie Holt
Ling Fu Min Mary La Rocca
Chung Lai Lai Jennette Loring

A flag drill was given after the play and a collection taken up, the proceeds were to be divided between the Society treasury and the War Work Fund.

Prizes of $250 were given to each of the girls who had been present every meeting and were presented by Rev. Mr. Bullitt to the following: Grace Bennett, Grace Cowing, Marion Cowing, Abbie Holt, Doris Luman, Memory Neal, Evelyn Stratton, Dorothy Underwood, Edith Walker, Edith Wolf, and Francis Foley.

To those who were absent once owing to the severe winter weather prizes were presented to Grace Ramsey, Olive Bacon, Ruth Mosker, and Jessie Elm. To those absent twice: Mildred Linscott, Marion Morse, Sadie Hollis and Eleanor Biddle. Prizes were also awarded to the girls who had paid ten minutes or over every day, as follows: Maud Hall, Dorothy Underwood, Grace Ramsey, Grace Cowing, Marjorie Tower, Alice Sprague, Grace Bennett, Francis Foley, Evelyn Stratton, Doris Luman, Edith Wolf and Memory Neal. After singing the Star Spangled Banner all departed after spending a pleasant evening.

Owing to the extreme hot wave Saturday and Sunday, Hingham was all sold out of ice-cream and most everything else.

Captain Ernest Lincoln is at home on a ten-day furlough from Camp Devens, Hingham, S. C. Strange as it may seem Captain Lincoln escorted his father's home through a window and was not discovered until he came down stairs for breakfast the following morning.

Among the things on the list of helps for the soldiers which the Massachusetts Woman's Christian Temperance Union hopes to be able to get with a part of the $50,000 which is the objective of the present drive is a stereomograph for Camp Devens. The National W. C. T. U. has already placed several of these, costing $500 each, but Massachusetts wants to give one for her own boys. An ambulance is also wanted and will be purchased if there is money enough after paying the mortgage on the White Ribbon Home at Ayer, the special piece of war welfare work for the unions of this commonwealth. A comprehensive plan for the safeguarding of girls and young women who are leaving their homes for work in government factories is another plan being carried out and the money to finance this is also needed. The Union has for many years been doing much in a quiet way along these lines and is well organized to carry on this forward movement.

"PERSHING'S CRUSADERS"

U. S. Government Official War Film at Shubert Theatre, Boston, Next Week, Twice Daily.

For a year the United States Government camera men have been busy getting the activities of our soldier and sailor boys registered on thousands of feet of motion-picture film. As a result of this work the people of New England will have the first opportunity at the Shubert Theatre, beginning next Monday, June 10th, and twice daily thereafter, to see what has been done by our boys up to date over here and over there.

"Pershing's Crusaders" is the title of this first official government feature film of the war and it really constitutes a motion-picture history of our first year at war. A successful effort has been made to show how the Government has handled the gigantic task of preparation for war. The recruiting of our army, the building of huge cantonments, the clothing and feeding of our troops, the making of arms to equip them, the building of enormous ship yards and the rapidity with which ships are being built and launched.

You will see our boys in training, fleets of aeroplanes in dizzying flight, our great floating fortresses on vigilant guard, our swift destroyers searching the sea for the German periscope.

The great part of the picture shows our boys—maybe your boys—in France. It follows them along the long road to the front. It shows the vast stores of munitions and supplies flowing like rivers through the quiet French villages up to the front line dumps. It depicts the first American field gun to throw a shell into the German trenches, the first American troops entering and settling down in a first-line trench, the first batch of German prisoners taken by our soldiers, the first baptism before a battle.

Secretary of War Baker is seen on his first tour of inspection in France, examining the great guns, the aeroplane squadrons and our troops themselves. General Pershing and staff accompany him in his visits to the camps of our "Crusaders."

It is a picture every month, sister or sweetheart of a soldier should see. It is better than a letter from the boys over there, for at the Shubert Theatre next week you can see him actually at the gun business and the light-hearted play of war. In order that all may see the pictures, a special scale of prices—25c and 50c—at all performances, is arranged.

W. C. T. U. DRIVE

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Massachusetts which is having a drive for $50,000 has recently opened an office for its Home at Ayer which will more than double the accommodations for the friends of the soldiers, their mothers, sisters and wives who come from a distance to visit them. When the place was dedicated last November only the main house, a large old style house of sixteen rooms, was opened. The lower floor was furnished as a recreation center, music, games and reading rooms, with the top floor only for rental. So great was the demand for such lodgings, however, that the large barn has been transformed into a dormitory, with a hall and cafeteria, adding much to the usefulness of the plant. The place is near the center of the town and easily accessible.

The house mother is Mrs. Sydna Eldridge of Vineyard Haven, a motherly gentlewoman, who makes the boys in khaki feel at home when they call and who goes to the base hospital regularly visit the unfortunate ones on the sick list. Like a true Lady Bountiful she likes to take something good to eat along with her, and her welcome is not less because she has chocolate or jelly to hand out.

LETTER OF APPRECIATION

June 1, 1918.

Publisher, East Wind, Hull, Mass.

Dear Madam: I wish to acknowledge, in behalf of the Red Cross Second War Fund Committee, the service rendered us by the newspapers of New England.

While the raising of our share of the hundred million dollar war fund was the main objective, it was also our desire, as a matter of patriotic education, to bring the deep significance of this war home to all our people, and to enlist their support of it in whatever direction their help might be needed. The success of the campaign, along both of these lines, was extraordinary, and for a very large share of this success we feel that the Red Cross is indebted to the newspapers for their splendid cooperation.

May I offer this acknowledgment to you personally, and also to the profession you represent.

Yours truly,

B. W. TEAFFORD, New England Campaign Chairman.

Might Be Welcome.

Wife—"John, there's a draught coming in the window." Debt-harassed husband—"Who from?"—Boston Transcript.
